Provide personalised care with fewer appointments

Meet their expectations without meeting in person

You experience:

- The ability to make adjustments for each program and listening environment you have already enabled on the hearing instruments

- The efficiency and convenience of remotely servicing clients who need minor adjustments
- An opportunity to free up appointment slots

Clients experience:

- The convenience of receiving program adjustments without leaving home, overcoming barriers of distance, accessibility, schedules and health concerns
- The flexibility to apply your adjustments when it's convenient for them
- Reassurance they can revert back to previous settings if changes don't meet their needs
