Clarity without compromise

Sennheiser's Speech Clarity technology ensures you can always understand actors and TV speakers – even in scenes with background noise or mumbled dialogue. Choose from five different profiles to tailor the TV sound to your requirements.

Stay in touch with your surroundings while watching TV

Whether it's the doorbell or a phone ringing – you can still hear what's happening around you when you enable the 'Ambient Awareness' option. Perfect for watching TV together with family and friends, or when you are expecting visitors.

Clear, comfortable sound

The True Wireless earphones set new standards in comfort and convenience, making even an extended series marathon a joy. Their unobtrusive wireless design, as well as their secure fit thanks to included soft ear adapters with stabilising silicone wings, ensure complete freedom of movement.

Suitable for all your devices

The transmitter connects to the (optical or analogue) audio output of your TV, making it compatible with virtually any device. As the earphones also support Bluetooth, they can be used for media streaming and making phone calls on your smartphone as well.

*Provided the TV has an optical or analogue audio output.

Excellent sound with no interruptions

You can use your TVS 200 earphones for up to 15 hours on a single charge. A further 22 hours of play time is possible by charging them in the TVS 200 charging box. This gives you a total of 37 hours of crystal-clear TV sound without stopping to plug them back in to a power socket. The earphones' charging box can also be charged wirelessly on a Qi-enabled charging pad or more traditionally with a USB-C power adapter.
