Dear <Client Name>,

We know it's never been more important to stay connected with what matters most: people. If you've been putting off trying hearing aids, there are some exciting advances that make speech even easier to understand – online or in person.

Get the most out of every conversation.

The newest line up of hearing aids from Unitron offer speech-enhancing technology so you can be a part of every conversation – even in noisy environments and with soft-spoken people. Now you can capture those subtle cues and nuances that help you understand the deeper meaning beyond the words.

Enjoy stylish solutions that fit your lifestyle.

Forget the bulky hearing aids of the past. Today's styles are smaller, sleeker and more comfortable than ever, and there's one to fit every lifestyle and hearing loss. And with made for all Bluetooth technology, you can connect to your favourite tech and media and enjoy truly hands-free phone calls¹.
